USF STUDENT CHAPTER UPDATE

The ITE Student Chapter at the University of South Florida (USF) started a new fiscal year 2008-2009 in April. Our new official board wants to thank the support from several local firms, our knowledgeable advisors, and a cooperative executive board for the past year and hope that they can continue support the new official board.

For this year, our board will continue to work to support the students at USF to participate in several activities. Our bi-weekly seminars will provide students with the opportunity to learn from transportation professionals. The ITE general meeting and social will be held each semester to welcome new students, get together with our members and thank you, the people that help us. Additionally, our chapter still supports students taking part in numerous conferences and retreats throughout the year. This is an excellent chance for students to get involved in professional events.

We would like to take this opportunity to introduce the new board for this year:

Hongyun Chen, President:

Hongyun is a graduate research assistant at CUTR and pursuing a master degree in civil and environmental engineering, specializing in transportation engineering. After graduation, she will pursue her PhD in USF. Her research interests are transportation safety, traffic operations, and transportation planning and economics.

Jiguang Zhao, Vice President:

Jiguang is a Ph. D. student and graduate research assistant of the ITS group at CUTR. His main research interests are traffic safety and ITS equipment evaluation.

Saxena Meeta, Secretary:

Meeta is a graduate research assistant at CUTR and works in the Transit Program Areas. She is pursuing a Masters degree in Civil and Environmental Engineering, with research interests in traffic safety, access management, and traffic engineering.

Enrique Gonzalez-Velez, Treasure:

Enrique is a graduate research assistant at CUTR and works for the Intelligent Transportation System (ITS) group. He is pursuing a Ph.D. degree in Civil and Environmental Engineering, with research interests in safety, simulation, and traffic engineering.
